“MYTHS REBORN THROUGH SOUND.”

Aleph Duo brings together vocalist Alice Claudia Lenaz and guitarist-composer Alessandro Balladore in an intimate musical language shaped by voice, guitar and silence. Their work moves freely between composed music, improvisation, spoken word and song.

At the heart of the duo is ALEPH, a concept album inspired by Greek mythology. Figures such as Eurydice, Penelope, Ariadne and Cassandra become mirrors for memory, longing, resilience and transformation. Ancient stories are not reconstructed; they are made personal and present.

BIOGRAPHY

FROM ANCIENT MYTH TO LIVING SOUND

ALEPH begins with mythology, but its destination is unmistakably human. The duo approaches each story as an emotional landscape: a place where a voice can become a character, a memory or a question, while the guitar shapes the space around it.

Alice Claudia Lenaz is a Belgian-Italian multidisciplinary artist whose practice crosses music, writing and visual art. Her vocal language draws on jazz, minimalism and intimate melody, with an expressive focus on nuance, text and presence.

Alongside her, Alessandro Balladore gives the music its harmonic architecture and rhythmic freedom. His guitar moves between pulse, texture and counterpoint, allowing composed detail and spontaneous interaction to coexist.

Together they create performances that are poetic, spacious and immersive — concerts in which the past breathes through the present and mythology becomes deeply personal.

MYTH IS NOT RECREATED.
IT IS MADE PERSONAL.
